The presenters

Tim Taylor is familiar to many teachers in Aotearoa New Zealand as a mentor in Dramatic Inquiry. A regular visitor since 2009, Tim has delivered workshops and courses that many will remember and still talk about. Tim is author of A Beginner's Guide to Mantle of the Expert and convenes the UK Mantle website www.mantleoftheexpert.com

Viv Aitken has been a practitioner and researcher in Dramatic Inquiry in Aotearoa New Zealand for over twenty years. She has worked with schools all over the country and also enjoys community education projects in partnership with museum educators, actor-teachers, and others. Viv is author of Real in all the Ways that Matter: Weaving Learning across the Curriculum with Mantle of the Expert and convenes the NZ Mantle website www.mantleoftheexpert.co.nz

Tim and Viv work together as Learning With Imagination. They have spent the last 18 months creating a resource for teachers consisting of a book and website with forty simple "keys" or tried and tested sequences for learning. Try This: Unlocking Learning with Imagination is published by Signature Press in the UK and will be available from April 2023. Tim and Viv are delighted to share their new resource on this workshop tour.

The workshops

During the workshop you will explore the "keys" both as a learner and as a teacher. Whether you are a beginner to Dramatic Inquiry, or an experienced practitioner looking for fresh ideas, the workshop will provide

- ways to make your teaching more engaging and active
- ways to bring the new Aotearoa New Zealand histories curriculum alive
- ideas on how to support unwilling writers
- strategies to support critical thinking, critical literacy and complex systems thinking
- tips on using Dramatic Inquiry in emotionally and culturally safe ways
- free access to some keys and an opportunity to purchase the book

... and more.
